DORA TOMINIC

Detail-oriented Front End Developer with more than 2 years of experience. Focused on React and the ecosystem around it but deeply curious about any tool that can help in bringing new generation of web experience closer to the user. Highly skilled in both independent and collaborative work.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Frontend Developer
Sep 2021- current sideos, Berlin

- Collaborated with product, design, and development teams in creating an innovative product.
- Built and maintained front end side of the platform that enables organizations and individuals to easily create and manage verifiable credentials.
- Developed a Next.js website with a headless CMS solution in Prismic, delivering a seamless and flexible content management experience that maximized the website's performance and scalability.
- Empowered junior developers to achieve their full potential by providing regular feedback, coaching, and mentorship, helping them to develop both personally and professionally.
- Played a key role in research and collaboration with the design team in setting up a design system and design tokens implementation.
- Worked on the front end development of a mobile app and browser extension, leveraging my knowledge of React and React Native to create an engaging and user-friendly experience for users across multiple devices.

Junior Software Developer
Apr 2021- Sep 2021
etonec GmbH, Berlin

- Developed frontend solutions for three MVPs, while familiarizing myself with the concepts of web3 and SSI technology.
- Worked closely with product managers, designers, and developers to ensure timely delivery of MVP features and functionality.
- Leveraged a combination of mentorship and self-learning to gain a deep understanding of key industry trends, best practices, and emerging technologies.
